

Partner's Instructions for Form IT-204-CP New York Corporate Partner's Schedule K-1

IT-204-CP-1

General instructions

If you are a partner in a partnership (a corporate partner) and you are subject to tax under Article 9-A (see Who must file under Article 9-A below), the partnership should send you a completed Form IT-204-CP, New York Corporate Partner's Schedule K-1. Keep Form IT-204-CP for your records. Do not file it with your Article 9-A franchise tax return.

Use the form and these instructions to determine the proper amount of partnership income, gain, loss, and deductions to report on your Article 9-A franchise tax return if you are computing your tax using the aggregate method and to determine tax credits that may be deducted against the Article 9-A franchise tax or passed through to S corporation shareholders. See below for information concerning the aggregate or entity methods as well as a foreign corporate limited partner that may make an election under Regulation section 3-13.

Errors on your Form IT-204-CP

If you believe the partnership reported inaccurate information on your Form IT-204-CP, notify the partnership. Ask for a corrected Form IT-204-CP. Do not change any items on your copy of Form IT-204-CP.

Who must file under Article 9-A

Domestic corporations subject to the franchise tax under Article 9-A — A domestic corporation (incorporated in New York State) is generally liable for franchise taxes for each fiscal or calendar year, or part thereof, during which it is incorporated until it is formally dissolved with the Department of State (www.dos.state.ny.us) unless specifically exempt pursuant to Regulation section 1-3.4. When filing its franchise tax return, the corporation must include the proper amount of partnership income, deductions, and credits regardless of whether the partnership is doing business, employing capital, owning or leasing property, or maintaining an office in New York State.

Foreign corporations subject to the franchise tax under Article 9-A — A foreign corporation (incorporated outside of New York State) is liable for franchise taxes during the period in which it is doing business, employing capital, owning or leasing property, or maintaining an office in New York State regardless of whether it is authorized to do business in New York State, unless specifically exempt pursuant to Regulation section 1-3.4.

Foreign corporate limited partner — A foreign corporation is doing business, employing capital, owning or leasing property, or maintaining an office in New York State if it is a limited partner of a partnership (other than a portfolio investment partnership as defined in Regulation section 1-3.2(a)(6)(iii)(d)) that is doing business, employing capital, owning or leasing property, or maintaining an office in New York State, and if it is engaged, directly or indirectly, in the participation or in the domination or control of all or any portion of the business activities or affairs of the partnership (see Regulation section 1-3.2(a)(6)(i)).

Foreign corporate general partner — If the partnership marked an X in the Yes box on line 30a (indicating that it did business, employed capital, owned or leased property, or maintained an office in New York State) and you are a corporate general partner, then you are subject to the franchise tax imposed under Tax Law Article 9-A and must include the proper amount of partnership income, deductions, and credits when completing your franchise tax return (see Regulation section 1-3.2(a)(5)).

Computation of tax

An Article 9-A corporate partner computes its tax with respect to its interest in the partnership using either the aggregate method or entity method, whichever applies. (See Election by a foreign corporate limited partner on page 2 for the exception to these methods allowed under Regulation section 3-13.5.)

Aggregate method — Under the aggregate method, a corporate partner is viewed as having an undivided interest in the partnership's assets, liabilities, and items of receipts, income, gain, loss, and deduction. The partner is treated as participating in the partnership's transactions and activities (see Regulation section 3-13.3).

Entity method — Under the entity method, a partnership is treated as a separate entity and a corporate partner is treated as owning an interest in the partnership entity. The partner's interest is an intangible asset that is classified as business capital. To the extent a corporate partner's entire net income (ENI) includes its distributive share of partnership items of income, gain, loss, or deduction, those items are treated as business income (see Regulation section 3-13.4).

Corporate partners required to file under the aggregate method

A corporate partner receiving a complete Form IT-204-CP must file using the aggregate method. In addition, a corporate partner must file using the aggregate method if the corporate partner has access to the information necessary to compute its tax using the aggregate method. A corporate partner is presumed to have access to the information and therefore is required to file using the aggregate method if it meets one or more of the following conditions:

- it is conducting a unitary business with the partnership;
- it is a general partner of the partnership or is a managing member of an LLC which is treated as a partnership for federal income tax purposes;
- it has a 5% or more interest in the partnership;
- it has reported information from the partnership in a prior tax year using the aggregate method;
- its partnership interest constitutes more than 50% of its total assets;
- its basis in its interest in the partnership determined under IRC section 705 on the last day of the partnership year that ends within or with the taxpayer's tax year is more than $5,000,000; or
- any member of its affiliated group has the information necessary to perform such computation.

A corporate partner that does not receive a complete Form IT-204-CP may file using the entity method only if it does not meet any of the conditions listed above and does not have access (and will not have access within the time period allowed for filing a return with regard to all extensions of time to file) to the information necessary to compute its tax using the aggregate method and certifies these facts to the commissioner (see Regulation section 3-13.2(b)).

Computation of tax under the aggregate method — The taxpayer's distributive share (see IRC section 704) of each partnership item of receipts, income, gain, loss, and deduction and the taxpayer's proportionate part of each partnership asset, liability, and partnership activity are included in the computation of the taxpayer's ENI base, capital base, minimum taxable income (MTI) base, and the fixed dollar minimum. These items have the same source and character in the hands of the partner for Article 9-A purposes that the items have for the partner for federal income tax purposes (see Regulation section 3-13.3(a)(1)).

Election by a foreign corporate limited partner — A foreign corporation that is a limited partner in one or more limited partnerships, that is subject to tax solely as a result of the application of Regulation section 1-3.2(a)(6) and that does not file on a combined basis for Article 9-A purposes, may elect to compute its tax by taking into account only its distributive share of each partnership item of receipts, income, gain, loss, and deduction (including any modifications), and its proportionate part of each asset, liability, and partnership activity of the limited partnership (see Regulation section 3-13.5).

If the taxpayer meets the criteria to make the election and does not have access to the information necessary to do the computation, the taxpayer may treat its distributive share of the partnership's items of income, gain, loss, and deduction as business income and its interest in the partnership as business capital and may allocate that business income and capital entirely to New York State.

This election may not be made if the limited partnership and corporate group are engaged in a unitary business, wherever conducted, and there are substantial inter-entity transactions between the limited partnership and the corporate group.

Corporate group means the corporate limited partner itself or, if it is a member of an affiliated group, the corporate limited partner and all other members of such affiliated group.

Affiliated group has the same meaning as such term is defined in IRC section 1504 without regard to the exclusions provided for in section 1504(b). However, the term common parent corporation is deemed to mean any person as defined in IRC section 7701(a)(1).

Partner's proportionate part of stocks, bonds, and other securitiesLines 16 through 19

The partnership has reported on these lines your proportionate part of the partnership's average value of stocks, bonds, and other securities; liabilities that are directly attributable to the stocks, bonds, and other securities; cash on hand and on deposit; and liabilities that are directly attributable to cash on hand and on deposit. The partnership has provided a breakdown to allow you to determine the classification of business, subsidiary, and investment capital that must be included on the appropriate lines of your franchise tax return. Use the definitions of subsidiary capital and investment capital in the instructions for Form CT-3, CT-3-A or CT-3-S and the special rules below to determine whether the items listed on lines 16 through 19 should be classified as subsidiary capital or investment capital.

Special rules for classification of capital for corporate partners

Subsidiary capital — Your proportionate part of stock of a corporation owned by a partnership is not subsidiary capital unless you directly own more than 50% of the voting stock of such corporation. Direct ownership does not include stock owned through a corporate structure consisting of several tiers and/or chains of corporations and/or partnerships. See Regulation section 3-13.3(e)(1) and the example below.

Example: Corporation C is a 60% partner in Partnership P. Corporation D has 100 shares of stock issued and outstanding, entitling the holders thereof to vote for the election of the corporation's directors. P owns 60 shares of D and C owns the remaining 40 shares. Corporation D is not a subsidiary of C because C does not directly own more than 50% of the shares of stock of D entitling the holders thereof to vote for the election of Corporation D's directors.

Investment capital — A debt instrument acquired by a taxpayer principally engaged in the business of lending funds does not qualify as investment capital. A taxpayer is principally engaged in the business of lending funds if more than 50% of its gross receipts consist of interest from (1) loans made by the taxpayer, and (2) net gain from the sale or redemption of notes or other evidences of indebtedness arising from such loans. In making this computation, you must include both your own gross receipts consisting of interest from such loans and net gain, plus the distributive share of the partnership's gross receipts consisting of (1) interest from loans made by the partnership and (2) net gain arising from loans made by the partnership (line 50). See Regulation section 3-3.2(d)(2)(ii).

Line 16 — Total average value of stocks, bonds, and other securities

Line 18 — Total average value of cash on hand and on deposit

The partnership has reported on this line your proportionate part of the partnership's total average value of cash on hand and cash on deposit. At your election, cash on hand and cash on deposit may be treated on any report as either investment capital or business capital. In making the election, you must take into account your proportionate part listed on this line that constitutes cash on hand and cash on deposit (see Regulation sections 3-3.2(a)(1) and 3-3.3(d)).

Include the amount from line 18 as either business capital or investment capital on the applicable lines of your corporate franchise tax return. Cash cannot be split; you must treat it as all business capital or all investment capital.

Line 19 — Total liabilities directly attributable to cash on hand and on deposit

The partnership has reported on this line your proportionate part of the partnership's total liabilities directly attributable to cash on hand and cash on deposit. If you elected to treat cash on hand as business capital, then reduce business capital by the line 19 amount. If you elected to treat cash on hand as investment capital, then reduce investment capital by the line 19 amount. Include the amount for line 19 in the calculation of either business capital or investment capital on the applicable lines of your corporate franchise tax return.

If you are using the aggregate method you must include your distributive share of the partnership's receipts and payroll within and outside of New York State, and your distributive share or proportionate part of the partnership's property within and outside of New York State when computing your business allocation percentage (BAP) and alternative BAP.

If you are a foreign corporate limited partner that makes the election under Regulation section 3-13.5 use only your distributive share of the partnership's receipts and payroll within and outside of New York State, and only your distributive share or proportionate part of the partnership's property within and outside of New York State when computing your BAP and alternative BAP.

Applicable partnership year — means any tax year of the partnership ending within or with the tax year of the partner.

Use the adjusted basis used for federal income tax purposes to value real and tangible personal property owned. However, you may make a one-time, revocable election to value real and tangible personal property at FMV. You must make this election on or before the due date (or extended due date) for filing your franchise tax return for your first tax year.

Inter-entity rented real or tangible personal property between the partnership and the corporate partner

The amount of rented real or tangible personal property reported to you by the partnership does not include your distributive share of the partnership's rental expense for property you rented to the partnership (see Regulation section 4-6.5(a)(2)(i)). The partnership was already instructed to eliminate these inter-entity rental expenses when preparing Form IT-204-CP.

If you have leased or rented real or tangible personal property from the partnership, include both your proportionate part of such property and eight times the amount of rental expense that is deemed to have been paid to the other partners for such property. The amount of rental expense deemed paid to other partners is your total rental expense paid to the partnership less your distributive share of the partnership's rental income from such property.

Otherwise include the adjusted basis of the tangible personal property from line 36.

The partnership was already instructed to eliminate these inter-entity receipts when preparing Form IT-204-CP.

Line 48 — Total receipts from the lending of funds

Include this amount to determine if you are principally engaged in the lending of funds to decide if a debt instrument qualifies as investment capital.
